

Learning curves: five-rollout moving means

Light lines are individual training seeds; dark lines average available seeds. Training data, not held-out test results.